Dog & Pony Shop's Blanket Policy

We do not guarantee any blanket against ripping or tearing of fabric, trim or fittings.

Horses live outdoors and in barns, often with other horses and being large animals they can destroy almost anything!

Please carefully check workmanship and fit of your new blanket before using it.

A Word About Waterproof

Although the fabric of the blanket may be waterproof, your horse still may get wet due to a number of reasons:

- The weather was too warm and your horse got sweaty. This is possible even in a breathable blanket (especially if your horse wasn't cooled out properly or it was running around its paddock)*
- Water runs down your horses' neck and under the blanket.*
- Your horse was lying down and the water was soaked up through the lining of the blanket.*
- Water leaked through the seams or stitching.*

Remember even if you are wearing the most expensive rain gear you may still get wet if you stand out all day in the pouring rain! The same logic will apply to your horse in their new "waterproof" blanket.

If you have any further questions or concerns, please contact a staff member and they will be pleased to assist you.
